

i have xm radio in my car for over two years i would never go back and listen to the crap you hear on the local radio and this is a free country and they should be able to have traffic and weather as something they offer and The NAB might have powerful lobbyists and big bags of campaign contributions that sucks that is why washington is so full of crap they all take money under the table nobody does the job they where sent to do it is to work for the people